NOTES: This is a no nonsense kind of filly, one that won't come untrained with time off or inexperienced hands. She has been grabbed out of the pasture and taken to gather, rope, and sort cattle. She has been hauled to cow horse shows and has drawn a check. This mare has a well established reining foundation; she will spin a hole in the ground, switch leads, circle and stop. She is dependable for long days on the ranch and is safe to throw beginners on. She is good minded, easy to be around and eager to please. This mare will lay down with just the snap of a finger and proudly sit back up to see all the heads turned her way. She was bred by Bloody Cross Cattle Company of Carthage, Missouri, and possesses the mind, the looks, the grit and the ability that they desire to produce. This mare does it all. In training with Isaiah Chandler.

NOTES: "Wimpy" is a gelding that you don't come across everyday. Ivan Raber has been at the helm since we have owned him. "Wimpy" is hands-down, a barn favorite. His long blonde mane and tail with the palomino color will turn heads everywhere you go. He has the size to be a head horse and the sliding stop to be a heel horse or a successful reining horse. He would be a great partner to excel with in multiple events. Big time opportunity and ready to go. NRHA License.

NOTES: "Shovel" is a daughter of the great Spade Ranch stallion, WHOS FOOLIN. She spent time in cutting training before going on to a full time job working on a stocker operation. She has been used in every aspect. Has doctored hundreds of yearlings, used to sort and ship on. She can make a full days work and you'll end your day with as much horse as you started your day with. She's level headed and easy to get along with. She'd be great to take on as a ranch versatility prospect or continue using her on your ranching operation. I purchased this horse in January 2019, and immediately sent her to a #8 header for 4 months of training. I brought her back home and used her on the ranch, roping pasture cattle. From November 21 to December 18, she will be receiving additional cutting training. AQHA Ranching Heritage Challenge eligible.
